Digital Signature Solution from ARX Now CA Certified

ARX's CoSign® Digital Signature Solution is Certified Interoperable with CA Records Manager

CA World 2008

LAS VEGAS--(BUSINESS WIRE)--ARX (Algorithmic Research), the leading provider of digital signature solutions, has been certified as a "ca smart" partner by CA, Inc. (NASDAQ:CA). ARX completed the ca smart certification for its CoSign digital signature solution, which it will be presenting at booth #390A during the CA World 2008 event November 16-20.

Used with CA Records Manager, CoSign provides additional safety measures for record integrity and user accountability. When the CoSign digital signature solution is used with CA Records Manager, and a CoSign user authorizes or approves, that user may do so with their secure digital signature (standard electronic signature), binding their identity and intention to the electronic record. Signed records can then be managed by CA Records Manager, the results of which can serve as a permanent reference point for the audit record.

For CA Records Manager customers, the ability to use CoSign within their business processes provides standard and portable document integrity and audit capacity - benefits that are extremely important in an enterprise environment. Interoperability with CoSign also serves to facilitate compliance with a variety of important regulatory requirements.

"The ability to answer corporate-governance audits and address industry-specific regulations demands high levels of security, control and IT interoperability," said Reed Irvin, Vice President, Product Management, CA. "CoSign digitally signed documents managed by CA Records Manager can help to meet these challenges."

"CA's smart certification of CoSign highlights the benefits standard digital signatures provide within a leading records management solution like CA Records Manager," said John Marchioni, VP Business Development, ARX. "When digital signatures are used they create readable and portable audit records, easing the integration of multiple business resources and functions. This a key enabler for cost effectively scaling business processes with proper controls."
